Questions

- How to reduce public support over time, shifting towards a higher private contribution overall?
- How to involve financiers at earliest stages of project development?
- How to unlock commercial banks financing?
 - What conditions in the local financial market need to be present to allow a focus on local bank lending to be the priority over MDB direct lending?
- What financial tools to allocate early-stage risk to the actor most suited to bear them?
- What is the role of insurance in geothermal development and it has evolved over time?
 - What is the price point for when insurance comes too expensive for developers so they would rather take the risk on themselves instead?

Thank you
